Additional information parents need to know:

- The app tracks the bus route, not the student.
- Bus route information is based on the student's residential address.
- The app will not provide information for Saturday school, extended day, and tutorial routes.
- Students are expected to be at their bus stop at the time designated by the driver or school. On occasion, a different driver and bus may be sent to cover a route. Parents may not receive notifications when this happens.
- The app is available to most campuses and programs. However, there are some exceptions.
